++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Largely dry but chilly today. Wet and windy Friday.

Today:
Most places dry with sunny spells, after a cold but bright start. However, it will become rather cloudy and breezy across the far northeast of the region, where some showers are likely. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers dying away to leave a largely dry, clear and cold night. However, later in the night, cloud, outbreaks of rain and brisk winds will spread in from the northwest. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Friday:
Cloudy and windy during the morning with outbreaks of rain. Sunny spells and scattered showers developing in the afternoon. These will be heavy at times and wintry across the Pennines. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Very windy and cold Saturday with showery outbreaks, wintry away from the coast. Brighter and less windy Sunday as showers fade away. Milder Monday with cloud and rain spreading east.
